Dear securityholders

Takeover offer for Asia Pacific Data Centre Group

On behalf of the Board of NEXTDC Limited (NEXTDC), I am pleased to present to you this attractive unconditional, all-cash offer to acquire all of your stapled securities in Asia Pacific Data Centre Group (APDC).

NEXTDC is offering $1.87 cash for each stapled security in APDC (Security) you own (Offer).

The Offer price of $1.87 cash per APDC Security represents compelling value. Specifically, it represents a:

- record price compared to any closing price of APDC Securities since listing on the ASX, 9 January 2013;
- 19.5%¹ premium to the $1.565 closing price of the APDC Securities on 1 May 2017, the day before 360 Capital announced its acquisition of a 19.8% stake in APDC; and
- 16.5% premium to APDC's pro forma net tangible assets per APDC Security as at 30 June 2017.²

Importantly, the Offer is unconditional, giving certainty to APDC securityholders.

APDC securityholders who were registered holders of Securities on the record date of 30 June 2017 will remain entitled to receive the $0.0243 per Security distribution announced on 26 June 2017 (payable 24 August 2017).

If you accept the Offer for your Securities, you will be paid within seven Business Days after the date NEXTDC receives your acceptance.

NEXTDC has also instructed its broker to purchase on its behalf all Securities offered for sale to it on the ASX during the period from the date of this Bidder's Statement until the end of the Offer Period at up to the Offer price of $1.87 per Security. If you sell your Securities on-market to NEXTDC you will be paid two ASX trading days (T+2) after the date on which the relevant trade takes place.

Details of the Offer, including its terms, are set out in this Bidder's Statement. I strongly encourage APDC securityholders to read all of this Bidder's Statement carefully, and then to accept the Offer as soon as possible.

To accept the Offer, you should follow the instructions on the enclosed Acceptance Form. Alternatively, you may instruct your broker to sell your Securities on-market on the ASX to NEXTDC.

If you require any assistance, please contact the NEXTDC Offer Information Line on 1300 795 998 from within Australia or +61 1300 795 998 from outside Australia.

We look forward to receiving your timely acceptance.

Yours sincerely

Doug Flynn
Independent Chairman

¹ Before taking into account the $0.0243 per Security distribution announced on 26 June 2017

² As announced by APDC to the ASX on 26 June 2017.

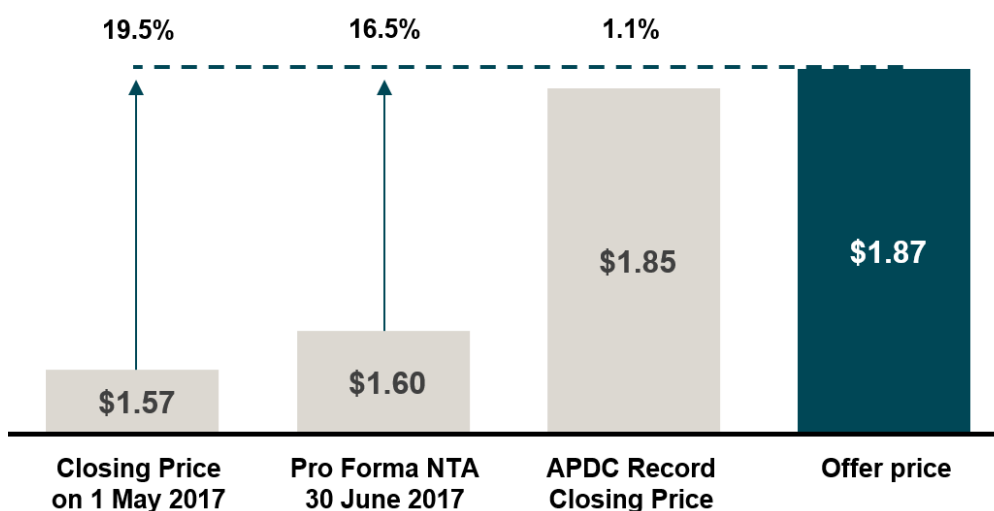

Why you should accept the Offer

1. The Offer represents a compelling price for your Securities

The Offer price of $1.87 cash per Security represents compelling value. Specifically, it represents a:

- record price compared to any closing price of the APDC Securities since listing on the ASX, 9 January 2013;
- 19.5% premium³ to the $1.565 closing price of the APDC Securities on 1 May 2017, the day before 360 Capital announced its acquisition of a 19.8% stake in APDC; and
- 16.5% premium to APDC's pro forma net tangible assets per APDC Security as at 30 June 2017.⁴

The chart below illustrates the implied premiums reflected in the Offer.

2. Cash certainty

The Offer consideration of $1.87 per Security is payable in cash and the Offer is unconditional, with consideration payable within seven Business Days after the date NEXTDC receives your acceptance.

This provides APDC securityholders certainty about the value of consideration being offered. The certainty provided by receiving cash under the Offer should be compared with the risks and uncertainties associated with holding securities in a listed entity.

The Offer enables all APDC securityholders to sell their holding in an orderly manner at the Offer price.

³ Before taking into account the $0.0243 per Security June distribution announced by APDC to the ASX on 26 June 2017.

⁴ As announced by APDC to the ASX on 26 June 2017.

3. Potential reduction in liquidity

NEXTDC currently has a Relevant Interest in 19.99% of the Securities on issue.

Should NEXTDC be successful in increasing its ownership stake in APDC, this may lead to reduced liquidity in the market for Securities, which may make it more difficult for you to sell Your Securities outside the Offer at or above the Offer price.

4. Trading price may fall if APDC securityholders do not accept

The closing Security price on ASX on 1 May 2017, the day before 360 Capital announced its acquisition of a 19.8% stake in APDC, was $1.565 per Security.

Given the Offer price represents a record price compared to the closing price of the APDC Securities price since listing on ASX, 9 January 2013, should the Offer lapse APDC's Securities may trade at levels below the Offer price going forward (although this is difficult to predict with any degree of certainty).

5. No brokerage or stamp duty will be payable on the sale of Your Securities through the Offer

If Your Securities are registered in an Issuer Sponsored Holding (your SRN starts with an 'I') in your name and you deliver them directly to NEXTDC, you will not incur any brokerage fees or be obliged to pay stamp duty in connection with your acceptance of the Offer.

If your Securities are registered in a CHESS Holding (your 'HIN' starts with an 'X'), or you are a beneficial owner whose Securities are registered in the name of a broker, bank, custodian or other nominee, you will not be obliged to pay stamp duty by accepting the Offer, but you should ask your 'Controlling Participant' (usually your broker) or nominee whether it will charge any transactional fees or service charges in connection with your acceptance of the Offer.

You may incur brokerage costs if you choose to sell your Securities on ASX.

1 Summary of the Offer

What NEXTDC is offering to buy?	NEXTDC is offering to buy all APDC's Securities, including Securities that are issued during the Offer Period, on the terms set out in this Bidder's Statement. You may only accept this Offer in respect of all of the APDC Securities held by you.

4.4 No pre-Offer benefits

During the period of 4 months before the date of this Bidder's Statement, neither NEXTDC nor any associate of NEXTDC gave, or offered to give, or agreed to give a benefit to another person which was likely to induce the other person, or an associate of the other person, to:

- accept the Offer; or
- dispose of APDC Securities, and which is not offered to all holders of APDC Securities under the Offer.

4.5 No escalation agreements

Neither NEXTDC nor any associate of NEXTDC has entered into any escalation agreement that is prohibited by section 622 of the Corporations Act.

5 Sources of consideration

5.1 Total cash consideration

The consideration for the acquisition of the Securities to which the Offer relates will be satisfied wholly in cash.

The maximum amount of cash that NEXTDC would be required to pay under the Offer if acceptances are received in respect of all APDC Securities on issue as at the date of this Bidder's Statement (other than those APDC Securities in which NEXTDC has a Relevant Interest) would be $172 million.

Accordingly, the maximum amount that NEXTDC could be required to pay under the Offer is $172 million, together with transaction costs.

5.2 Sources of cash consideration

The cash consideration payable under the Offer will be provided from the internal cash and term deposit reserves of NEXTDC, which is available to meet its obligations under the Offer.

NEXTDC has internal cash and term deposit reserves as at the date of this Bidder's Statement of more than $300 million.

6 NEXTDC's intentions in relation to APDC

6.1 Introduction

The intentions of NEXTDC are set out in this section of the Bidder's Statement. Those intentions have been formed on the basis of facts and information concerning APDC, and the general business environment, which are known at the time of preparing this Bidder's Statement. Final decisions will only be reached by NEXTDC in light of material information and circumstances at the relevant time. Accordingly, the statements set out in this clause 6 are statements of current intention only and accordingly may vary as new information becomes available or circumstances change.

6.2 Intentions for APDC as a wholly owned controlled entity

(a) Context

This clause 6.2 describes NEXTDC's intentions if NEXTDC and its associates acquire a Relevant Interest in 90% or more of the Securities, and so becomes entitled to proceed to compulsory acquisition of outstanding Securities in accordance with Part 6A.1 of the Corporations Act.

In that circumstance, NEXTDC's current intentions are as follows.

(b) Corporate matters

NEXTDC intends to:

- proceed with compulsory acquisition of the outstanding Securities in accordance with the provisions of Part 6A.1 of the Corporations Act;
- arrange for APDC to be removed from the official list of the ASX; and
- replace the members of the APDC Holdings Board and the APDC Limited Board with the nominees of NEXTDC. Replacement board members have not yet been identified by NEXTDC and their identity will depend on the circumstances at the relevant time. However, it is expected that the majority of the replacement board members will be members of the NEXTDC management team.

Following completion of the compulsory acquisition of the outstanding Securities, all of the Securities will be held by NEXTDC. At this point, APDC Trust will cease to be a "managed investment scheme" (as defined in the Corporations Act); however, it will still be a "registered scheme" (as defined in the Corporations Act). NEXTDC intends to:

- cause an application to be made to ASIC for deregistration of the APDC Trust so that it would cease being a "registered scheme"; and
- retain APDC Limited as trustee of the now wholly-owned APDC Trust pending the outcome of a broader structure review.

(c) APDC's business, assets and employees

Following completion of compulsory acquisition, NEXTDC intends to:

- integrate APDC's three Properties and other assets into NEXTDC's business; and
- review APDC's structure and operations with a view to maximising the efficiency with which APDC's assets are held and managed as part of NEXTDC's business, and maximising operating synergies between APDC's assets and NEXTDC's business.

Having regard to the nature of APDC's assets and operations, it is expected that the positions of APDC's current employees would become redundant, and its employees would either be redeployed or their employment would be terminated. If redundancies do occur, the relevant employees will receive benefits in accordance with their contractual and other legal entitlements.

NEXTDC has not yet conducted its review of APDC's structure and operations and accordingly does not currently have other specific intentions in relation to APDC.

6.3 Intentions for APDC as a part owned controlled entity

(a) Context

This clause 6.3 describes NEXTDC's intentions if APDC becomes a controlled entity of NEXTDC, but NEXTDC is not entitled to proceed to compulsory acquisition in accordance with Part 6A.1 of the Corporations Act.

In that circumstance, NEXTDC's current intentions are as follows:

(b) Corporate matters

After the end of the Offer Period, NEXTDC intends:

- to continue the operation of the APDC Trust as a registered scheme;
- to retain APDC Limited as responsible entity of APDC Trust; and
- (subject to continued compliance by APDC with the Listing Rules) to maintain APDC's listing on the ASX (although APDC securityholders should be aware that in this circumstance the liquidity of APDC Securities on ASX may be materially adversely affected).

It is possible that, even if NEXTDC is not entitled to proceed to compulsory acquisition of minority holdings after the end of the Offer Period under Part 6A.1 of the Corporations Act, it may subsequently become entitled to exercise rights of general compulsory acquisition under Part 6D.2 of the Corporations Act; for example, as a result of acquisitions of Securities in reliance on the '3% creep' exception in item 9 of section 611 of the Corporations Act. If so, it intends to exercise those rights.

(c) General operational review

After the end of the Offer Period, NEXTDC intends to propose to the APDC Holdings Board and APDC Limited Board that an immediate, broad based review of APDC's operations be conducted on both a strategic and financial level, to:

- evaluate APDC's performance, profitability and prospects;
- manage the assets of APDC with a view to maximising returns to APDC securityholders;
- ensure that the management of APDC's portfolio is consistent with NEXTDC's general business strategy; and
- identify opportunities for operating synergies in the short, medium and long term.

NEXTDC intends, subject to the approval of the APDC Holdings Board and APDC Limited Board, to participate in this review.

(d) Limitations in giving effect to intentions

The ability of NEXTDC to implement the intentions set out in this clause 6.3, will be subject to the legal obligations of APDC Holdings and APDC Limited directors to have regard to the interests of APDC and all APDC securityholders, and the requirements of the Corporations Act and the ASX Listing Rules relating to transactions between related parties. NEXTDC will only make a decision on the above mentioned courses of action following legal and financial advice in relation to those requirements.

6.4 Intentions for APDC if not controlled by NEXTDC

This clause 6.4 describes NEXTDC's intentions if APDC does not become a controlled entity of NEXTDC. In that circumstance:

- NEXTDC does not expect to be in a position to give effect to the intentions set out in clauses 6.2 or 6.3 of this Bidder's Statement; and
- NEXTDC's interest in APDC will be reviewed by NEXTDC in accordance with the interests of NEXTDC's securityholders.

6.5 Other intentions

Subject to the matters described above in this clause 6 and elsewhere in this Bidder's Statement and, in particular, the completion of a review of APDC's operations and structure, it is the intention of NEXTDC, on the basis of the facts and information concerning APDC that are known to it and the existing circumstances affecting the assets and operations of APDC at the date of this Bidder's Statement, that the business of APDC will be conducted in the same manner as at the date of this Bidder's Statement.

6.6 Current intentions based on current information

The intentions described in this clause 6 have been formed on the basis of facts and information concerning APDC, and the general business environment, which are known at the time of preparing this Bidder's Statement. Final decisions will only be made by NEXTDC in light of information and circumstances at the relevant time. Accordingly, the statements set out in this clause 6 are statements of current intention only and may vary as new information becomes available or circumstances change.

7 Tax considerations

7.1 Introduction

The following is a general description of the Australian income and capital gains tax consequences for APDC securityholders who accept the Offer. The comments set out below are relevant only to those APDC securityholders who hold their Securities on capital account. Securityholders who hold their Securities for the purposes of speculation or a business of dealing in securities (eg as trading stock) should seek their own advice.

APDC securityholders who are tax residents of a country other than Australia (whether or not they are also residents, or are temporary residents, of Australia for tax purposes) should take into account the tax consequences under the laws of their country of residence, as well as under Australian law, of acceptance of the Offer.

The following description is based upon the Australian law and administrative practice in effect at the date of this Bidder's Statement, but it is general in nature and is not intended to be an authoritative or complete statement of the laws applicable to the particular circumstances of every APDC securityholder. APDC securityholders should seek independent professional advice in relation to their own particular circumstances.

The following description refers to Securities for simplicity. However, for tax purposes shares in APDC Holdings and units in APDC Trust are separate assets, and the tax consequences of disposal of shares in APDC Holdings and units in APDC Trust are worked out separately.

7.2 Australian resident securityholders

(a) Securityholders who accept the Offer

Acceptance of the Offer will involve the disposal by APDC securityholders of their Securities by way of transfer to NEXTDC. This change in the ownership of the Securities will constitute a CGT event for Australian CGT purposes.

The date of disposal for CGT purposes will be the date the contract to dispose of the Securities is formed. The date the contract to dispose of the Securities is formed will be the later of date that the Offer is accepted and the date the offer becomes unconditional.

(b) Compulsory acquisition

If a APDC securityholder does not dispose of their Securities under the Offer and their Securities are compulsorily acquired in accordance with Part 6A.1 of the Corporations Act, those securityholders will also be treated as having disposed of their Securities for CGT purposes.

The date of disposal for CGT purposes will be the date when NEXTDC becomes the owner of the Securities.

(c) Calculation of capital gain or capital loss

APDC securityholders may make a capital gain or capital loss on the transfer of Securities, to the extent that the capital proceeds from the disposal of the Securities are more than the cost base (or in some cases indexed cost base) of those Securities. Conversely, APDC securityholders will make a capital loss to the extent that the capital proceeds are less than their reduced cost base of those Securities.

The cost base of the Securities generally includes the cost of acquisition and any incidental costs of acquisition and disposal that are not deductible to the securityholder, and in respect of units in APDC Trust reduced by any non-assessable distributions..

The aggregate capital proceeds of the capital gains tax event in respect of the Securities will include the consideration price of $1.87 cash per Security received by the APDC securityholder in respect of the disposal of the Securities. As mentioned above, tax consequences of disposal of shares in APDC Holdings and units in APDC Trust are worked out separately.

Individuals, complying superannuation entities or trustees that have held Securities for at least 12 months should be entitled to discount the amount of any capital gain (after application of capital losses) from the disposal of Securities by 50% in the case of individuals and trusts or by 33% for complying superannuation entities. For trusts, the ultimate availability of the discount may depend on a beneficiary's entitlement to the discount.

Capital gains and capital losses of a taxpayer in a year of income are aggregated to determine whether there is a net capital gain. Any net capital gain is included in assessable income and is subject to income tax. Capital losses may not be deducted against other income for income tax purposes, but may be carried forward to offset against future capital gains.

7.3 Non-resident securityholders

For an APDC securityholder who:

- is not a resident of Australia for Australian tax purposes; and
- does not hold their Securities in carrying on a business through a permanent establishment in Australia, the disposal of Securities will generally only result in Australian CGT implications if:

- that securityholder together with its associates held 10% or more of the Securities at the time of disposal or for any continuous 12 month period within 2 years preceding the disposal; and
- more than 50% of APDC's value is due to direct or indirect interests in Australian real property, which is defined to include mining and exploration leases and licences.

A securityholder that, together with its associates, owns, or has for any continuous 12 month period within 2 years owned, 10% or more of the issued Securities of APDC should obtain independent advice as to the tax implications of sale, and whether any protection will be available under a relevant double tax treaty.

A non-resident APDC securityholder who has previously been a resident of Australia and chose to disregard a capital gain or loss on ceasing to be a resident will be subject to Australian CGT consequences on disposal of the Securities as set out in section 7.2.

7.4 Non-resident CGT withholding rules

This section describes the potential operation of the foreign resident capital gains withholding tax which may apply in respect of Securities sold pursuant to the Offer. These rules will not apply if you sell your Securities on-market.

(a) Overview of Subdivision 14-D

The foreign resident capital gains withholding tax in Subdivision 14-D of Schedule 1 of the TAA 1953 (Subdivision 14-D) applies from 1 July 2016 to any transaction involving the acquisition from a "relevant foreign resident" of:

- (1) an 'indirect Australian real property interest' as that term is defined in section 825-55 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997 (Cth) (such as, for example, a membership interest in a 'land-rich' company or trust); or
- (2) an option or right to acquire such property or such an interest.

If you are a relevant foreign resident, Subdivision 14-D may require NEXTDC to withhold and remit to the ATO 12.5% of the consideration otherwise payable to you under the Offer. As explained in paragraphs 7.4(b), (c) and (d) and clause 9.6(f) below, the amount required to satisfy the Subdivision 14-D payment obligation would be withheld from the consideration otherwise payable to each relevant foreign resident under the Offer. The withheld amount is called a CGT Withholding Amount, which term is defined in clause 10.1 below.

(b) “Relevant foreign resident”

For the purposes of the rules in Subdivision 14-D, and in the context of NEXTDC's Offer, a relevant foreign resident is any entity that, at the time the transaction is entered into:

- (1) is known by NEXTDC to be a foreign resident;
- (2) is reasonably believed by NEXTDC to be a foreign resident;
- (3) is not reasonably believed by NEXTDC to be a resident of Australia for Australian tax purposes, and either has an address outside Australia or NEXTDC is authorised to provide a financial benefit relating to the Offer to a place outside Australia; or
- (4) has a connection outside Australia of a kind specified in the regulations.

(c) Relevant Foreign Resident Declaration Form

If NEXTDC, as purchaser, considers or reasonably believes that the registered holder (being the legal owner) of the Securities is a relevant foreign resident, the registered holder may receive a Relevant Foreign Resident Declaration Form.

If you think that you are a relevant foreign resident but do not receive a Relevant Foreign Resident Declaration Form, you should contact the NEXTDC offer information line on 1300 795 998 (within Australia) or +61 1300 795 998 (outside Australia) and request a Relevant Foreign Resident Declaration Form. In the Relevant Foreign Resident Declaration Form, the registered holder of your APDC Securities may provide NEXTDC with a declaration that:

- (1) the registered holder of your APDC Securities is a resident of Australia for Australian tax purposes (Residency Declaration); or
- (2) the ADPC Securities held by the registered holder are not indirect Australian real property interests (Interest Declaration).

If you are unsure about whether the registered holder (being the legal owner) of your APDC Securities is able to make a Residency Declaration or an Interest Declaration, you should seek your own tax advice in this regard.

(d) Withholding payment

- (1) If:
 - (A) NEXTDC, as purchaser, considers or reasonably believes that the registered holder (being the legal owner) of your APDC Securities is a relevant foreign resident; and

- (B) a signed Relevant Foreign Resident Declaration Form containing a Residency Declaration or an Interest Declaration has not been provided to NEXTDC by the required time stipulated in the letter accompanying the Relevant Foreign Resident Declaration Form,

NEXTDC will:

- (C) withhold the CGT Withholding Amount from the consideration otherwise payable to you and pay the CGT Withholding Amount to the Commissioner on or before the due date for payment of the consideration; and
 - (D) within a reasonable time, provide you with evidence that NEXTDC has paid the CGT Withholding Amount to the Commissioner.
- (2) By complying with clause 7.4(d)(1):
- (A) in accordance with section 16-20 of Schedule 1 of the TAA 1953 and clause 9.6(f) below, NEXTDC discharges its obligation to pay the CGT Withholding Amount to you; and
 - (B) you release NEXTDC from any further liability to pay that amount of the consideration otherwise payable to you.

7.5 Goods and services tax

Holders of Securities should not be liable to GST in respect of a disposal of those Securities.

APDC securityholders may be charged GST on costs (such as advisor fees) that relate to their participation in the Offer. APDC securityholders may be entitled to input tax credits or reduced input tax credits for such costs, but should seek independent advice in relation to their individual circumstances.

8 Other material information

8.1 Other offers for APDC

(a) 360 Capital Offer

On 25 July 2017, 360 Capital announced a conditional proposal for an off market takeover bid of all APDC Securities, other than those already held by 360 Capital (the 360 Capital Offer).

360 Capital is a property investment and funds management company that invests in direct property assets, property securities and various corporate real estate acquisitions within Australian real estate markets on a private equity basis.

As at the date of this Bidder's Statement, 360 Capital is proposing, subject to the satisfaction of certain conditions, to offer $1.80 cash for every Security.

(b) Consequences of accepting the 360 Capital Offer

If 360 Capital proceeds to make the 360 Capital Offer, and you accept the 360 Capital Offer in respect of some or all of Your Securities, you cannot accept NEXTDC's Offer in respect of those Securities unless you are or become entitled under the Corporations Act to withdraw your acceptance from the 360 Capital Offer.

If you accept the 360 Capital Offer in respect of only some of Your Securities, and those Securities have been transferred to 360 Capital, you may be able to accept NEXTDC's Offer in respect of the balance of Your Securities, if the Offer Period remains open at the time.

8.2 Date for determining holders of Securities

For the purposes of section 633 of the Corporations Act, the date for determining the people to whom information is to be sent under items 6 and 12 of subsection 633(1) is the Register Date.

8.3 Institutional acceptance facility and broker handling fees

NEXTDC reserves the right to introduce an institutional acceptance facility. If it does so, it will announce details of the facility in a supplementary bidder's statement.

NEXTDC does not intend to pay a commission to brokers for acceptances of the Offer by APDC securityholders. However, NEXTDC reserves its rights in this regard.

8.4 On market purchases

In accordance with ASIC Market Integrity Rule 6.2.1, NEXTDC confirms that it may purchase APDC Securities on market during the Bid Period for prices at or below $1.87 cash per Security.
